

The National Center for Policy Analysis

Established in 1983, the NCPA is a non-profit, non-partisan think tank located in Dallas, Texas. The mission of the NCPA is to promote innovative, free market solutions to public policy problems. The NCPA pursues its mission by identifying, encouraging, and communicating scholarly research, focusing particularly upon the issues of health care, tax, energy, and retirement. The NCPA communicates daily with policymakers, opinion leaders and the general public, advising them as to the policy challenges our country faces and recommending pragmatic solutions. NCPA policy recommendations have improved the lives of millions of Americans:

- Because of the NCPA idea of Health Savings Accounts, 16 million families are managing some their own health care dollars.
- Because of the NCPA idea of Roth IRAs, $225 billion in personal savings has been taxed once and will never be taxed again.
- Because of NCPA recommendations for Social Security reform, 78 million Baby Boomers will be able to work beyond age 65 without being penalized by Social Security.
- Because of the recommendations of an NCPA/Brookings Institute plan, half of all future 401(k) enrollees will be automatically enrolled in a diversified portfolio enjoying higher and safer returns.
- Largely because of the work of NCPA Distinguished Fellow, Bob McTeer, Mark to Market Accounting rules were eased allowing for more flexibility in measuring fair value of assets and the sale of toxic assets.
